THE WINNERS.

With a higher standard of work being exhibited, thirty-three children entered in the Journal's contest for the six prizes as a reward for the best colorings of the Jiggs comic section in the Sunday Journal.

The improved standard of work shows that interest in the contest is spreading and that the children are trying harder for the rewards. The number of entrants was better than usual.

The winning drawing is to be displayed again in the window of O. A. Matson company.

Entrants should remember that their work is judged upon neatness, originality and natural coloring. The contest is open for all school children up to the age of fifteen living both in and out of town.

The rules of the contest are as follows:

Take the comic sheet of The Journal and color the figures and backgrounds, using any design you fancy.

Attach a sheet to the page, giving your name, age, school and address.

Bring or mail these to The Journal office. Local contestants must have their colored sheets in by Wednesday. Out-of-town contestants are allowed to Friday night.

IN UNIDENTIFIED MAN IS KILLED AT GALLUP

Special Correspondence to The Journal.

Gallup, N. M., June 18.—A man who has not been identified was truck and killed by Santa Fe train No. 1 Thursday morning in the Gallup yards. The incident occurred early in the morning. The man was walking down the track as the train approached him he stepped off the track and stood with his back toward the train. He failed to stand clear of the engine and was struck in the back by the cylinder of the engine. He was thrown a great distance and practically every bone in his body was broken. He is a man about 45 years of age, dark complexion, American. There was absolutely nothing on the man by which he can be identified.

The Home of the Soul.

In olden times, it was believed that the seat of the soul was the stomach, most likely for the reason that a man is never so completely set up as when his stomach is out of order. For the cure of ordinary stomach troubles, there is nothing quite so prompt and satisfactory as Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.
